

Party Receipts From The Charleston Junior League: A Culinary Journey Through History

The Charleston Junior League is a non-profit organization of women committed to voluntarism and improving the community. For over a century, the Junior League has been a vital part of Charleston's social and cultural fabric.

One of the Junior League's most popular and enduring traditions is its annual cookbook, "Party Receipts." First published in 1913, "Party Receipts" has become a beloved resource for generations of Charleston hostesses. The cookbook is filled with a treasure trove of recipes, from classic Southern dishes to international fare.

In this article, we will take a closer look at "Party Receipts" and explore the culinary journey it offers readers. We will also provide a few of our favorite recipes from the cookbook.

The first edition of "Party Receipts" was published in 1913, just a few years after the founding of the Charleston Junior League. The cookbook was an immediate success, and it has been revised and updated several times over the years. The current edition of "Party Receipts" contains over 1,000 recipes, representing a wide range of culinary traditions.

The recipes in "Party Receipts" are a reflection of Charleston's rich history and culture. The city has been a melting pot of cultures for centuries, and its cuisine reflects that diversity. You will find recipes for classic Southern dishes, such as shrimp and grits, as well as international fare, such as sushi and pad thai.

In addition to recipes, "Party Receipts" also includes a wealth of information on entertaining. The cookbook offers tips on everything from planning a party to setting a table. There are also sections on wine pairings and cocktail recipes.

With over 1,000 recipes to choose from, it can be difficult to know where to start. Here are a few of our favorite recipes from "Party Receipts":

- Shrimp and Grits: This classic Southern dish is a must-try for any fan of Lowcountry cuisine. The shrimp are cooked in a creamy sauce and served over grits.
- She-Crab Soup: This rich and flavorful soup is a Charleston specialty. It is made with crab meat, cream, and sherry.

- Pad Thai: This popular Thai dish is made with rice noodles, shrimp, chicken, and vegetables. It is tossed in a sweet and sour sauce.
- Sushi: This Japanese dish is made with rice, seaweed, and fish or vegetables. It is a delicious and healthy option for any party.
- Chocolate Chip Cookies: These classic cookies are always a hit with guests. They are made with chocolate chips, butter, sugar, and flour.

"Party Receipts From The Charleston Junior League" is a culinary treasure that offers readers a glimpse into the rich history and culture of Charleston. The cookbook is filled with a variety of recipes, from classic Southern dishes to international fare. Whether you are planning a party or simply looking for a new recipe to try, "Party Receipts" is sure to have something for you.
